

Thousand Suns

There is a fire that burns with the heat of a thousand suns
I have walked through this inferno Shadrach is my name

Like the sun in the sky it burns silent but relentless now the fire is within me Meshach is my name

Honor tends this furnace blows the coals white-hot no impurities survive here Abendego is my name

Every atom of my being sings this fierce paeon
I have lived to tell this tale Douglas is my name

To my friends I beckon, come close let the furnace protect you To my foes I beckon, come close
The fire still burns

With the heat of a thousand suns.
